BEAMS AND GIRDERS
SLIDE SHOW
Girders and beams are laid out in their respective positions according to the erection drawings and the piece marks on each member.
The beams and girders are erected. These members frame bays as well as openings such as an elevator shaft, HVAC duct chase, or stair well.
Here, girders span between columns, while beams and open web bar joists span between girders.